My dear Friend

91 I notice that you do not send me the "Anti-slavery Standard".— But why not as well as the "Liberator", for which I am so much obliged to you. The fact is, — these are the only papers in which I take unmixed pleasure, and which I read through and through from beginning to end. — I like, also, to leave them about on the tables and in the rooms at our boarding house here at the Mountains in hopes to interest and convert some of the "old Fogies" and Conservatives among whom I find myself. — How are you all at No 221 Washington St? Well,

I hope. — As regards myself I think I am gaining a little but not much. We have had intensely hot weather here notwithstanding our proximity to the mountains, — and I suppose the Chief advantage realised by a visit here is the greater purity of the atmosphere rather than any great difference of temperature. —

As regards the papers, if it is any great trouble to you to mail them I will dispense with them great as the deprivation would be, for the four or five weeks longer we shall remain here, — rather than put you to such trouble. But all I would really ask of you is to drop them in the office at Boston, to my address here and at my expense of Postage of Course, either payable here or in Boston. As I say - I will only be about four weeks longer, perhaps five, and I will duly send you notice when to stop sending them.

Very Sincerely Yrs
John T. Sargent.
